

Donated Cancer Medication Saves Lives in Michigan

For Immediate Release

“When you have cancer, everything is difficult. The process in getting the medication from YesRx has been really easy,” shares Elizabeth a patient in Michigan who’s monthly cancer medication costs over $20,000.

YesRx, a Michigan-based nonprofit organization is working to improve access to cancer medication for patients and eliminate cancer medication waste in communities. YesRx provides simple ways for individuals across the U.S. to donate unused cancer medication and have it reach patients like Elizabeth in Michigan.

YesRx has built a statewide network of over 130 cancer clinics who have joined the YesRx mission. Together, this interconnected community has collected thousands of medications donated by patients, families, and caregivers. Since 2023, YesRx has distributed over $27 million dollars in cancer medication to clinics in Michigan to provide to their patients, for free.

YesRx will hold a week-long statewide cancer medication donation event April 20-24 for individuals to donate cancer medication in-person at nearby clinics in Michigan. The locations can be found on www.yesrx.org. Individuals with unused oral cancer medication or supportive medication can donate it and know that it will reach a patient in need. The medication needs to be sealed in the original manufacturer packaging, with an expiration date that is 6 months or longer and stored at room temperature. Details on donating medication and help for individuals to donate at any time can be found on www.yesrx.org.

YesRx is a 501(c)(3) charitable service organization advancing community health by delivering cancer help every day to patients, families, care teams, and communities.
